CHAPTER 13
FAMILY TRADITIONS

Objective: Comparing character traditions with personal traditions

Directions: Many families have a certain routine they adhere to for specific events. Many times, this repetition leads to the formation of a tradition. For some, holidays are when family members come together and enact certain traditions, whether it is a particular dinner, gift exchange, a yearly trip, or any other meaningful event or custom.

The Jarrett family is preparing to celebrate Christmas at home this year. To get into the Christmas spirit, Cal and Calvin have picked out a Christmas tree to be decorated later. Using the images offered in Chapter 13, draw a picture showing the type of Christmas that Conrad envisions for his family. Next, choose any holiday or event that your family celebrates together, and draw a picture of it.
